

College Admission Workshop

Planning for college can be almost as tricky as graduating from college. There are all sorts of deadlines, admission requirements, school choices, and steps to take. You can try navigating these risks yourself, but you may miss out on something important.

This workshop is all about planning for your collegiate future so that you can feel confident that you have made the right decision about college. Specific areas of focus include:

- How to choose the right list of colleges for you
- Step-by-step guidance through your college application
- Expert help writing a top-quality personal statement
- Proofreading of all long and short essay responses
- Overview of all options for college financing
